

EAMAN, Jack

On the afternoon of March 27th, 2008, Jack Eaman of Edmonton, Alberta, passed away at the age of 97 years.

Jack is survived by his daughter, Evelyn of Edmonton and his son, Morris of Vancouver, BC. He was predeceased by his loving wife, Anne in 2000.

Jack was born in Poland and came to Canada as a young boy and settled in Saskatchewan where he became a merchant/storekeeper, which became his career for his entire working life. He operated a series of general stores in Saskatchewan, moving to Edmonton in 1943 when called to the armed forces. In Edmonton, he met his future wife, Anne and began working, managing and later, owning Shragge Brothers General Store in Old Strathcona for 35 years with Anne as his partner. He was a devoted and caring husband and father to his children. He was an active member of his community at all levels, was kind and full of good humour and overflowing in the rare commodity of common sense. He will be missed by all of his friends and family.

Thanks go out to the staff of The Sturgeon Community Hospital, the Norwood Continuing Care Centre and the General Hospital Long Term Care wards 6C and 7AB for their excellent and professional care.
