

The Eulogy for Ivor LeBane, given by his daughter
Marci LeBane McQueen, and his grandsons Spencer
McQueen and Josh Carlsen
Wednesday March 23, 2011

- If you knew my dad you knew he was a man who loved family
- you knew he loved children and they loved him.
- you knew he loved traditions.
- you knew he loved a good party.
- you knew he hated flying but loved to travel.
- you knew he was very outgoing but a private and conservative man.
- If you knew my dad, you knew he had a smile that could light up a room.
- you knew he had a sweet tooth.
- you knew he loved his friends and had friends that were like family.
- you knew he loved being a dad.
- you knew he loved to shop especially at drug stores
- you knew you knew he was a very generous person.
- you knew he loved to hear what antics his grandchildren were up to.
- If you knew my dad then you were a very lucky person because you knew one of the most amazing people that you will ever meet.
- you knew that he was a true friend, one who was always there for those in need, through good times but especially the bad times.

- If you knew my dad you knew that he was the kind of person that every liked being around because he didn't judge you on what you had but on who you were inside.
- you knew that he always put family first, before himself and all others.
- you knew that no matter the shortcomings of his children, he was always there to forgive them and encourage them to do better.
- You knew he was a great host
- If you knew my dad, than you were blessed, because there will never be another quite as special as him.
- If you knew my dad you knew that all he really truly needed to be happy was a bowl of pumpkin seeds and a nice cigar.
- If you knew my dad you knew that he spoke from the heart, if even if it hurt...honesty was one of his greatest qualities.
- If you knew my dad you should know that in the end, he never gave up, never threw in the towel until he knew it was time for him to go.
- If you knew my dad, you would be happy to know that he was the Ivor we all came to love and adore right to the end.
- If you knew my dad, I mean really got to know my dad, then you must not be sad he is gone today, but happy that he played some part in your life...we were all truly lucky to have know him.
- If you knew my dad you know I was so honoured to have him as my dad and that I will miss him so very much
